FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – October 21, 2015

First Nation Reunites with Wasaya Airways

October 21, 2015 – Thunder Bay, ON – Wasaya Airways LP today announced reunification with its ownership community Muskrat Dam First Nation.

"Muskrat Dam believes in strengthening its relations with the surrounding First Nations and third parties. Muskrat Dam wants to strengthen its linkage to the economy by rejoining Wasaya," said Muskrat Dam First Nation Chief Stan Beardy.

Chairman of Wasaya's Board of Directors, Chief Bart Meekis stated, "We respect the sovereignty of Muskrat Dam First Nation and the choices of their people. We welcome our First Nation brothers and sisters from Muskrat Dam back to the Wasaya family with open arms. Muskrat Dam First Nation will return to its ownership position in Wasaya as though they had never left." Chairman Meekis continued to outline Wasaya's strategic objectives by saying, "the Board of Directors has given clear direction to our CEO. Be safe; be profitable; and, operate the business in a manner consistent with promoting all our First Nation's values and aspirations. Respect our Elders, encourage our students and ensure a bright future for our company and our people."

"This is a significant step forward, and a vote of confidence for Wasaya," said Michael Rodyniuk, Wasaya President and Chief Executive Officer. "We have been restructuring the company over the last 13 months fulfilling our mandate and priority to be a safe, profitable airline that offers opportunities for First Nations youth to pursue aviation as a career. Our team's priority is safety, and by focusing on our on-time performance and strategic objectives outlined in our new business plan, we have with enhanced our guest's experience, resulting in Wasaya Airways being the preferred airline of choice in Northwestern Ontario."

Wasaya Airways LP is a 100% First Nations owned airline serving 25 destinations in Northwestern Ontario with an average of 60 daily flights and employs 315 employees, over 35% of which are First Nations.
